It was Erasmus project's "Let's talk about 'Tartu' mobility to Turkey. My students from Gökkuş... have school. I showed the students from Turkish and Romanian schools came to visit the Corpus Centre in Istanbul. The staff members had to have the language get around here. They also wanted to be some activities together with Turkish children. It was very nice to do the same activities together. My students came back more tolerant, more empathic, more open to world's problems.

Every single educational experience teaches us how to think globally and take an action for ally without conceptualizing of others. Especially in the field of global education where young people and generations and find answers about democracy and connections between Global North and South. There are little steps we can all take towards a more world. (Tani, 2012, 15)

The picture was taken in the "Health as Action" Youth Exchange "Action for Social Change" in Larissa. Youth Exchange participants got involved in a mission from around Larissa. It was to document cultural, environmental and historical information. It was an interesting project as the youth had to create the content where the participants got to know each other and connect with the students of Larissa. The youth can do a similar work to help.
